

UTILITY BILL AS AMENDED

Telegraph Section To Consider.

MUCH WORK ACCOMPLISHED TODAY

Senate Kills The Elver Bill Relative To Sterilization Of Feeble Minded Persons--Other Measures Acted Upon.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Madison, Wis., May 29.—The assembly received the revised public utility regulation bill. It leaves out the telegraph companies, which will be the subject of a new bill. It also eliminates the anti-duplication features from the telephone companies and allows the use of a depreciation fund for extensions. As revised it provides for effective regulation by the rate commission of water powers, heating, lighting and telephone companies.

The senate received a new bill from the committee on state affairs providing for a cut of one-third in the present rates of express companies, the penalty for violation being repayment of three times the overcharge and a fine of $100 to $1,000 on agents; if the company or directors overcharge it shall be fined $500 to $1,000.

The bill to appropriate $5,000 to George Rawleigh, who was injured while a convict in the state prison, was introduced.

Among the bills killed was the Stoddard bill to establish the Torrens system of land transfers.

A long contested co-employee and comparative negligence bill was advanced by the senate. It abolishes contributory negligence as a defense in personal injury suits and submits the question of comparative negligence to the jury.

The Huddall bill to prevent the building of a parallel or "duplicated" railroad line without permission of the rate commission was advanced.

The Elver bill for sterilization of defectives was killed by a vote of 10 to 6.

The bill to authorize Milwaukee county to establish a system of tract indices and make abstracts of title was amended so as to apply to all counties and was advanced.

The Stoddard bill to keep saloons 3000 feet away from the university was passed.

Monument to Jefferson Davis and General Stuart Will Be Unveiled
During Convention.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Richmond, Va., May 29.—The seventh reunion of the United Confederate Veterans will be opened in this city tomorrow morning. The crowd of visitors is expected to be the largest ever entertained in Richmond. The unveiling of monuments to Jefferson Davis and Gen. Stuart are features of added interest to the reunion program. And the fact that the Jamestown Exposition is within easy reach of Richmond will result in a largely increased attendance at the reunion.

Hundreds of gray-clad veterans reached the city today, and the playing of martial music is to be heard throughout the business section. By tomorrow morning the great mass of visitors will have arrived, and it is roughly estimated that fully 150,000 persons will be here by the time the convention opens.

The veterans and other visitors have found Richmond swathed in bunting, the stars and bars of the Confederacy predominating. Thousands of national flags are also used and many tattered battle flags are displayed from the homes of the owners who carried them through the war.

The exercises tomorrow will be opened at 9:30 o'clock in the morning, when the convention will be called to order by Major General S. B. Boling, commanding the Virginia division. Preliminary business will occupy the initial session. In the afternoon will come the big parade, and the unveiling of the Stuart statue.

AMERICANS AFTER CONGO'S TREASURES

Exploring Expedition Looking For Mineral Deposits in Land Leased
From Leopold.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Antwerp, May 29.—The mineral prospecting expedition to the Congo sent out by the International Forestry Company, in which Thomas F. Ryan and other New Yorkers are interested, will depart from here tomorrow for Lucho, in the Congo, by way of Boma. Prospecting will commence immediately upon the arrival of the party. The expedition is headed by R. Dorsey Moun, a well-known explorer and former American consular agent at Boma. S. W. Ball is the geologist of the expedition.

The American company received from King Leopold last November a grant for rubber and other exploitation of about 2,500,000 acres for sixty years. The concessions include not only exploitation of the India rubber resources of the country, but a franchise to construct a railroad, and mining leases over a territory rich in copper and half as large as the territory of Alaska. There is silver also and some gold, as well as other valuable minerals, but the principal reliance of the prospectors is upon copper. It is accordingly to copper mining that the coming will first devote its energies.

The concession to the Americans is generally regarded as a clever move on the part of King Leopold to involve the United States in any future international complication which may arise owing to the conduct of affairs of the independence state. Those interested in the company are men of great influence as well as vast wealth. Besides Mr. Ryan they include the Messrs. Guggenheim, Harry Payne Whitney and John D. Rockefeller, Jr.

DISTRICT OPTION TO GO TO THE GOVERNOR

Measure Which May Affect Janesville Is in the Hands of Davidson Now.

The Baker district option bill will now be re-engrossed and then sent to the governor for his approval. It limits the number of saloon licenses in towns, villages, and cities to one to each 250 residents and gives the residents of any district of from 100 to 750 inhabitants the right to prevent by remonstrance the licensing of any saloon in such district. The remonstrance must be signed by at least a majority of the qualified electors of the district. The boundaries of the district must conform as nearly as possible to precinct, ward or legislative district lines and be not more than four times as long as it is wide. Blocks used for business purposes or one-third of the lineal feet of which is devoted to business purposes can not be included in such districts. After once being made prohibitive districts no saloons can lawfully be licensed in them until the prohibition has been removed by petition of a majority of the electors residing therein. The bill is practically the same as the Thayer measure of two years ago.

FIRST SCOUT CREW IN THE AMERICAN NAVY LAUNCHED

The "Birmingham" Is Speedy Vessel Built On Lines Of Torpedo Boat Destroyer, But Gigantic In Proportions.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Quincy, Mass., May 29.—The scout cruiser Birmingham—the first vessel for its type being built for the United States Navy—was successfully launched at the yards of the Fore River Shipbuilding Company today. A large party of guests from Birmingham, Ala., were present, headed by Mayor George B. Ward and Senator-elect Joseph F. Johnston. The cruiser was named by Miss Mary Campbell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Campbell of Birmingham. The sponsor was attended by eight young ladies of her home city. They were Misses Grace Hardie, Marjorie Weatherly, Ellen Linn Molton, Mary George Cruikshank, Martha Dabney, Kathleen Nixon, Mary Kirkpatrick and Mary Cameron.

The invited guests came from Boston by special train during the morning. Besides the Alabama party a number of officers from the Charleston navy yard were on the train.

The launching took place as soon after the noon hour as the condition of the tide warranted. As the cruiser slid down the ways, Miss Campbell broke a bottle of champagne against the bow and said: "I christen thee Birmingham." The river about the shipbuilding plant was filled with boats, and as the new ship took the water a great salute was given her by all the craft, and by the whistles of nearby manufacturing plants. The cruiser floated majestically out upon the bosom of the river, where she soon was captured by a tug and towed to one of the shipyard piers, where she will be completed. She now is just a little more than half done.

The Birmingham and her sister ships, the Salem and the Chester, have claim to special interest by reason of being entirely a new type of ship in the American navy. They are built primarily for speed, and have much the appearance of a torpedo boat destroyer on a mammoth scale. England has a few examples of this type, but they are not so speedy as the Birmingham and they cannot carry nearly as much coal, and in that respect must be less effective.

The Birmingham is of the following dimensions: Length between perpendiculars, 420 feet; breadth, 46 feet 8 inches; displacement on speed trial not more than 3700 tons; mean draft to bottom of keel at trial displacement, 16 feet 9 1/2 inches; total bunker capacity, 1200 tons.

This battery will be a light one, comprising two submerged torpedo tubes and twelve 3-inch rapid-fire guns. The ship will carry two searchlights and a wireless telegraph outfit, as well as an up-to-date electrical equipment in every way. There will be considerable nickel-steel protection. Her contract requires that she shall make at least twenty-four knots per hour on her four hurs' sped trial. She will be manned approximately by 10 officers and 368 men.

ROOSEVELT'S TRIP WILL BE OF GREAT BENEFIT TO ALL

His Visit Down The Mississippi River Next Fall Will Have Its Effect.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, D. C., May 29.—Although President Roosevelt's trip down the Mississippi River next fall—a trip which he has declared he will take provided nothing unforeseen happens—will be of the most direct benefit to the great Middle Western country, it is almost of equal importance to the people of the entire country. Mr. Roosevelt, in his letter of acceptance of the invitation of the governors of sixteen states, makes this very plain. In all his public utterances on the question of waterway improvement, President Roosevelt repeatedly has dwelt on the fact that communities situated some distance from navigable streams or improved ports would benefit quite as much as those communities lying on the banks of great rivers or on the shores of the Great Lakes. In his letter he says:

"Let me say a special word of appreciation of the invitations, which came from the governors of Maine, Florida, and Oregon, all of whom, although they are governors of states which are not on the Mississippi, showed their realization of the enormous importance of improving this great national highway because of the benefit that easy and cheap transportation thereon will mean to all the Union, and because the belief that improvement of the Mississippi and its tributaries will tend to bring about the improvement of other navigable waterways of the country as a factor in commercial and industrial development and as affording one of the best possible methods of regulating railway rates."

"I feel that the problems before the Commission concern vitally not only the people of the Mississippi Valley, but the people of our entire country, and anything I can do to forward the rapid solution of these problems of the proper utilization of our great waterways, I am glad indeed to do."

This expression by Mr. Roosevelt is in entire keeping and sympathy with his sentiments as mirrored in the address he made to the delegates to the National Rivers & Harbors Congress held here in January of last year. The delegates, consisting of shippers and business men from every state in the Union, were received by

Mr. Roosevelt at the White House. In the course of a brief address to them, the President said:

"It is a very great pleasure to have the chance of greeting you in the White House this afternoon. I sometimes have visitors who want to discuss with me matters in which I am not interested, but a congress like this is always welcome, because it has at heart the affairs in which the whole nation is deeply concerned, for it is unnecessary to say that those who live remote from any navigable river, from any deep sea harbor, yet have almost as great, though an indirect concern in their proper care and development as those who live right on the borders, for the development of our commerce depends in large part upon the same treatment of the rivers and harbors of the United States."

This National Rivers and Harbors Congress was the pioneer organization in bringing before congress and the people of the United States the commercial necessity existing for the development of the rivers and harbors of the country. For five years it has labored steadily to this end, and its efforts are now beginning to bear fruit. The success of the organization may be marred unless interest is well sustained in the entire question, and to that end the organization is seeking to increase its membership, which already is large.

There is no doubt that the President's forthcoming trip will stimulate in a high degree the interest that has been aroused by the organization. The invitations, urging Mr. Roosevelt to make the journey, were received from the governors of Arkansas, Florida, Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Louisiana, Maine, Missouri, Nebraska, North Dakota, Oklahoma, Oregon, South Dakota, Tennessee, Texas, and Wisconsin. The President's reply was sent individually to each governor, and the trip will be made early in October, and in all likelihood the members of the Inland Waterways Commission will accompany the chief executive. Mr. Roosevelt will go directly from Canton, O., where he is to make the principal address at the unveiling of the McKinley monument, and probably will board the government boat at some point in Illinois.

MRS. M'KINLEY BURIED BY SIDE OF LATE PRESIDENT

Simple Services Mark The Funeral--All Canton Honored The Dead Woman.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Canton, O., May 29.—The body of Mrs. Ira Saxton McKinley now rests by the side of the late President McKinley in the receiving vault at West Lawn cemetery. The simple funeral services were held at the McKinley residence this afternoon and were witnessed by a distinguished company including President Roosevelt, Vice President Fairbanks, Governor Harris and many high officials of the nation and state. During the funeral and progress of the cortege to the cemetery all business in Canton, not absolutely necessary, ceased. The McKinley residence was not nearly large enough to accommodate the thousands who wished to attend. So numerous were the floral remembrances from the nation the greater part of them had to be sent to the cemetery ahead of the funeral procession. The funeral service was brief and confined to the Methodist Episcopal ritual, and the four songs identical with those sung at the funeral of the late President. The receiving vault, which is still guarded by United States regulars, will be the resting place of the bodies of both Mr. and Mrs. McKinley until the magnificent McKinley mausoleum built by public subscription is completed, probably in September.

Happiest Children.
 The happiest children are those who have happy mothers. The young life

MEDICAL MEN AT ANNUAL BANQUETHOTEL MYERS SCENE OF THE AN-NUAL BANQUET LAST NIGHT.

MOST ENJOYABLE EVENING

Dr. C. F. Dwight Was Toastmaster—
Excellent Menu—Clever Talks
by the Speakers.

Rock County Medical men proved last evening that their talents do not all lie in the healing of the sick and the caring for the wounded. At one of the most pleasant banquets ever held in the city a bountiful feast for the inner man and for his mental entertainment last evening. The banquet hour was set for seven-forty-five and a few hours later the large dining-room was well filled, fifty of the physicians and their wives being present, together with a few invited guests.
 Dr. C. F. Dwight acted as toastmaster in a most acceptable manner, his pleasant remarks introducing the pleasant evening in a charming manner. While it was ladies' night the Medics could not get away from their profession and reverted to their medical terms and definitions in explaining the subjects assigned to them. Dr. J. M. Evans of Evansville was the first speaker, extending the address of welcome to the guests of the evening. He was followed by George L. Hatch, who gave two vocal selections accompanying himself upon his harp. Dr. E. C. Helm of Beloit had "The Ladies" assigned him for his toast and in chosen language paid pretty tribute to them. He paraphrased Shakespeare's seven ages of man with seven ages of woman from the babe to the grandmother, loved by all. Dr. S. B. Buckmaster had a most pleasing and interesting talk on "The White Plague." While his talk was interesting from a medical standpoint it was also instructive and entertaining. Dr. Samuel Bell, the oldest practicing physician in Rock county, gave a pleasing little address, paying tribute to the new faces he saw about him, which reminded him that old age was creeping upon him. Dr.
 Bell has practiced medicine for forty-two years in Rock county. Mrs. E.
 F. Woods toasted "The Doctors" and told of their life from the standpoint of the wife, resenting the inferences that appeared in a recent article that implied the Doctors were Skylocks and told of their calls both night and day that are irrefragable of the division of the sun and moon. As this is the last meeting of the spring, the next coming in September at Beloit, Dr. Bennett of Beloit, was elected as representative of the county medical association to attend the state meeting at Superior and Dr. Evans of Evansville as his alternate. Among the visiting medical men were F. T.

WEATHER TALK FOR PAST SEVEN DAYSThe Report from the Milwaukee
Weather Office is Not Encouraging for Past Week.

The mean temperature during the past week ranged from 46 to 48 degrees in the extreme northern and eastern counties and from 48 to 52 degrees over the remainder of the state. The opening days were clear and generally cold, frost being reported from many places on the 20th and 21st. From this time until the close of the week the weather was cloudy, with cold rains in all parts of the state. Light snow flurries occurred along the lake during the early morning of the 27th.

The total precipitation averaged from 1 to 2 inches over all but the northeastern counties, where the amounts ranged from half an inch to an inch. Even in this latter section, however, the amounts received exceeded the normal for the week.

The season is very backward and generally vegetation has made but little progress.

Extracts from correspondents' reports:

 week has been cold and rainy with northeast winds prevailing. J. C. Up-much in need of sunshine. E. S. Stod-

KICKERS' KOLUM
 Ed. Kickers' Kolum: In regard to the council's action as to changing of street names at meeting Monday evening we wish to state first: Liberty street is not and never was a part of Ringold street; and second, we did not ask for a change of name but to restore the name that rightfully belongs to it. Last year the council changed the name of Ringold street to Liberty street. Some residents of Ringold street made a kick—then the name of both streets was changed to Ringold. Do we as residents of Liberty street have the same right? If any advantage can accrue to the city by having both streets the same name, we are willing to be shown. The next street west, Forest Park boulevard and Elm street, almost intersect; the name of neither was changed. Query:
 Is it for the benefit of the city's best interest that these things occur?
 A Resident of Liberty St.

FOUR MORE UNITED WITH THE ELKS' ORDER LAST EVENING
 Last of the Large Waiting Class Has Now Been Given Their Antlers.

At the meeting of the Janesville Lodge 254 of the B. P. O. E. last evening the last four members of the large waiting class of the Elks were given their antlers. Herbert Holmes, E. P.
 Ryan, J. H. McVicar, and John Gollner were the candidates. The lodge is now in a most prosperous condition and expects soon to be in their new club rooms which are rapidly being completed.

REAL MOVEMENT
FOR GOOD ROADSCOUNTY BOARD ENDORSES THE IDEAS OF EIGHT TOWNS.

CREDIT DUE TOWN CHAIRMEN

Will Mean Miles of Excellent Roads in Rock County Within the Next Ten Years.

All hail to the town chairmen of Rock county. They have solved the good roads problem. While the legislature and national reformers of good roads have been seeking state legislation on the subject Town Chairmen S. S. Jones of the town of Plymouth, W. O. Howell of the town of Clinton, John Sherman of the town of Fulton, Robert Barless of the town of Harmony, J. R. Jones of the town of Beloit, W. C. Duffy of the town of Bradford and J. A. Paul of the town of Milton, have solved the problem and aided by the concerted action of the District attorney and county board have actually made a beginning on good country roads for Rock county.

The state laws of 1905 is found a law which relates directly to the country roads and makes provision that if any town in addition to its regular highway tax votes money to regularly grade and macadamize its roads, the county is to pay an equal share of the expense. In view of this fact the eight towns above mentioned have made appropriations: Clinton, $1000;
 Plymouth, $400; Canton, $500; Beloit, $500; Harmony, $500; Beloit, $1000; Bradford, $500 and Milton $200. Magical also appropriated $300. C. W.
 Moore, chairman to build a much needed bridge. According to the state law the county board appropriated an equal amount for each town on the basis of macadamizing the road at an expense of $2000 a mile.

The law provides that the grade of the road and plans shall be prepared by a competent engineer and let to the lowest bidder for construction. If every town in Rock county made this move, built one good mile of roads each year, in ten years there would be two hundred and forty miles of as fine country roads as can be found anywhere. The beauty of the arrangement of the law is that the cities pay their share of the taxation of the country improvement in the form of the taxes which are used to equalize the town assessments.

Fisher's Plan
 District Attorney Fisher has looked into the subject carefully and will call a meeting of the different town chairmen later in the spring to thoroughly take up the matter. The law provides that the work is to be done under the supervision of the three town supervisors and two members of the county board, making in all a committee of five to care for the work. This guarantees good systematic labor and means much towards the success of the plan.

Crushed Gravel
 It is understood that the town of Clinton purpose to make their improvements with the crushed gravel from the Kickerbocker plant near this city. Mr. Fisher will try and induce the town chairmen to use a similar, if not the same, material, as it has been decided it is one of the best for materials in this part of the country. The move is one which serves the support of the citizens of Janesville and every other city in the county as well as of all the town chairmen. The eight men who have made the initial move have taken a long stride in advance for their respective townships and deserve great credit.

..Forty Years Ago..

Janesville Daily Gazette, Wednesday, May 29, 1867.—A New Dodge.—The last dodge we have heard of the way of small swindle, was perpetrated a few days ago by a man who sold oats in this market. When the purchaser came to examine them he discovered that sand had been mixed with them, and when they were cleared several hundred weight of that article was found in one load of grain. The next exhibit of cupidity will be something else.

Bringing it Forward.—It is evident by the opinion of those who have any wheat to sell, that the present is the time to dispose of it, as it is now coming forward with tolerable freedom. With anything like a decent crop in prospect the price of this grain must be largely depressed from the present figure, and even should the price fall a little from the point at which it now stands, we look to see it drop again a long stretch. In fact of it.

A very few weeks harvesting will commence in the southern states, and when the new crop begins to come into the market, the old wheat, which is most of it of an inferior quality, will be neglected and must command but a low price. Seeing these things, the farmers who have anything to spare are very wisely, we think, selling what they have. We never expect to live long enough to again see the same quality of wheat bring as high a price as it has done during the past few weeks.

Another Chance For Greely.—Now that Maximilian is in limbo, would it not be a good opportunity for Mr. Greely to market a little more of that milk of human kindness which seems to overflow his bosom, by offering to give bail for his behavior?

Down with the Prices.—Jackman's best flour is now selling at $6.50 per hundred. Down it goes, and we are glad of it.

May 29, 1780—One hundred and twenty-seven years ago today occurred the massacre at Waxhaws by General Tarleton. Find a colonist.

ALEXANDER GRAHAM BELL. Mr. Alexander Graham Bell, the father of the modern telephone, was born in Edinburgh, Scotland, on March 3, 1847. He graduated from London university and went to Canada in 1870, but moved to Boston in 1871, where he was employed as an educator. Mr. Bell married, in 1877, Miss Mabel Gardiner. It was on February 14, 1876, that Mr. Bell, finally applied for a patent on the first practical telephone ever invented, and his work of that period still forms the real foundation of the modern instrument. He reaped immense financial returns from his invention, and was signally honored by the University of Heidelberg as a benefactor of the human race. His home is in Washington, D. C.

A SCHOOLBOY STAR.

Talbot of Mercersburg, Pa., Excels With Hammer and Shot.

SOME OF HIS RECENT FEATS.

He Threw Twelve Pound Hammer 190 Feet 9 Inches Early In Spring—Later He Defeated the Intercollegiate Leader and Also Sent Missile 193 Feet.

By far the most sensational work of the early outdoor season has been done by Lee Talbot, the young Mercersburg (Pa.) academy giant, in the weight events. Standing nearly six feet five inches in his stockings and built in perfect proportion, Talbot has made jokes of all the intercollegiate weight events he has entered. Early in the spring he set a new world's record with the twelve pound hammer of 190 feet 9 inches. Recently in the Yale intercollegiate meet at New Haven, Conn., Talbot put his whole strength behind the missile and sent it out 193 feet, a new world's record.

Talbot's work has been mainly with the twelve pound hammer, but now and then he has fooled with the sixteen pound missile in practice and has repeatedly bettered 160 feet. Probably the greatest feat of his career was the defeat he administered to M. F. Horr, the intercollegiate hammer throwing champion, at the University of Pennsylvania relay games April 27. The schoolboy simply outclassed his more experienced college rivals, winning with a single throw.

In addition to his prowess with the hammer Talbot is a star with the shot and has already annexed the intercollegiate indoor record.

Early last winter the Irish-American Athletic club of New York recognized in Talbot a coming champion, and inside of a very few weeks the giant youth was a full fledged athletic member of the winged fist club. To say that Talbot will be a valuable addition to the Irish-American Athletic club team is putting it very mildly. Champion John Flanagan will have to look sharp to his laurels when this youth strips for action. If Talbot can throw within ten feet of Flanagan's record now, when he is only seventeen years old, what will happen when he turns twenty-one and acquires his full strength? Talbot's acquisition by the Irish-American Athletic club is a body blow to the hopes of the New York Athletic club in the weight events during the coming outdoor championships.

In the event of an American invasion of England for the London Olympic games in 1908 Talbot will be a tower of strength for the Yankee team. Probably by that time the Mercersburg giant will have improved at least 10 per cent over the record form he is showing now.

Bunting Talk. Willie Keeler of the New York Americans has the following to say regarding bunting: "Don't be chicken hearted. Remember the pitcher is as scared of you as you are of him. Don't try to knock the stuff out of the ball. Hold your bat firmly. Meet the ball and kind of push it where you want it to go. In bunting I always aim to have the ball hit within an eighth of an inch of my fingers. My theory is that if I were standing there to make a one hand catch of what the pitcher was going to send over I'd at least get it in my mitt. Therefore I grab the outside end of the bat with the hand I would otherwise catch the ball with and try to have the ball connect with my bat same as it would fall into my hand."

Public Stables at Detroit. Jeff Cunningham, Billy Lacey, and Billy McLaughlin will train public stables at the fair grounds track in Detroit this year.

MEMORIAL DAY

Tomorrow is Memorial day, and it will be generally observed wherever enough of the Grand Army men are left to rally. The ranks of the old veterans are being rapidly depleted, and it will not be many years until the observance of Memorial day will be delegated to other hands.

It is well that the children of the nation are taught to reverence the day, for it contributes to patriotism and love of country in large degree. The Civil war was a righteous war, and while the scars which it left were deep and permanent, they speak with silent eloquence of sacrifice and loyalty.

All honor to the men who remain in the shattered ranks. They are object lessons which make history more real to the new generation. There is no longer a dividing line, and the veterans of the north and south, meet as brothers.

Major Milner of Birmingham, Alabama, served in the Confederate army under Gen. Lee. He is a typical old school southern gentleman, and while the war resulted in the loss of fortune and the humiliation of defeat, yet he discusses the history of that stormy period, without bitterness, and says that Lincoln was right when he proclaimed that "this nation can not exist half slave and half free."

The major represents the fragment of the Confederate army still living. They are veterans of the Civil war, survivors of the lost cause, which they defended as loyally as the men opposed to them defended the union.

The north lost in blood and treasure, but the south lost infinitely more, for all over this fair section of the land was devastation and destruction. The people were disheartened and discouraged, and after the lapse of nearly half a century the landmarks of war are still visible.

The race of four million slaves became free men, and today eight million colored people contribute to the race problem, which haunts the southern states like a nightmare. The fact is appreciated that there is no escape from responsibility, and so the people of the south are attempting to solve the problem, which will continue to be the last relic of the Civil war for time to come.

Memorial day should cover the land without regard to boundary lines, for there is neither north nor south to-day, but one common country, where patriotism and loyalty reign supreme.

GOOD ROADS

The movement inaugurated by the County board Tuesday in endorsing the report of the town chairmen of eight of the Rock County towns and appropriating a similar sum to that given by the towns, for the improvement of the roads of the county by systematic work is a step in the right direction and deserves the encouragement and aid of the entire county. Good roads mean much to any community and while the state as a state have been wrestling with the problem the Rock County town chairmen have solved it and if one mile of road is laid in each township during the next ten years it will mean Rock county will be better equipped in this respect than any other county in the state. All honor to the town chairmen and all praise to the county board.

Even cattlemen have discarded the barb-wire for their ranges, claiming it is inhumane and yet people place it on top of their fences to keep the small boys from climbing over right here in civilized Janesville and persons who profess great respect for the dumb brutes too.

The fact that the Independent telephone companies are fighting the general utility bill at Madison is a sign that it is just the measure the people of the state as a whole want passed. Regulation of the telephone companies would be a great thing.

Now that the county towns have taken up the good roads problem why not have Janesville take up the good sidewalk crusade? It would be fair play. Town people use the country roads and country people use the city walks.

It is safe to say that that Senatorial question will again crop out shortly when some of the defeated candidates aspire to great things at the primaries. Meanwhile "Uncle Ike" is the Senator.

Friday promises to be a gala day at Madison. The great intercollegiate boat race between Syracuse and Wisconsin is to be rowed and the state legislature has decided to sanction the meet by their presence.

The Milwaukee Journal has not gotten over the fact the legislature dared to vote contrary to their wishes. They wanted Lenroot so badly that their eyes were blinded to every other candidate.

Rock county has laid the foundation for a series of rural roads that promise to be a source of pride for future generations to point to as the work of their ancestors.

Roosevelt and his big stick are ready to wage war on the railroads if necessary, but he prefers using sugar to entice them to be good than to resort to violence.

This continual cold weather is discouraging to farmers and business men alike. However, it may get warmer soon. It is always cold on Decoration Day anyway.

The soda water enthusiasts do not feel just as happy as they did a few weeks ago for somehow cold weather does not set well with ice-cream Sundays.

No one wants to plan for the Fourth of July when it is as cold as it is now. They had rather discuss matters from in front of a grate fire.

A great revival gathering is to be held in Janesville during the month of June and doubtless the meetings will receive the support they deserve.

The Local Option saloon bill has been re-introduced and gone to the Governor for his approval.

Even the great ocean liners go aground sometimes when within sight of land and safety.

There should be plenty of ice left in the icehouses this fall if the present weather continues.

POLITICS AND POLITICIANS.

Cincinnati has joined the list of cities in the contest to secure the next democratic convention.

Senator Nixon of Nevada is a mining magnate in the new Goldfield region. He also runs a string of newspapers and a string of banks. In his early days he was a telegraph operator.

Former Senator William E. Mason of Chicago is an avowed candidate to succeed Senator Albert J. Hopkins of Illinois. The contest will be decided at a general primary to be held in April of next year.

The commencement address at De Pauw university next month will be delivered by Congressman James E. Watson, republican whip of the house of representatives and prominently mentioned as successor to Speaker Cannon.

Indications are not lacking that a great fight is impending for the democratic nomination for governor in North Carolina. Among the aspirants are Locke Craig of Asheville, former Lieutenant Governor Doughton, ex-Congressman Fred Woodard and Congressman William W. Kitchin.

Lieutenant Governor Lawrence Y. Sherman of Illinois, the new member of the Spanish treaty claims commission is a cousin of former Governor Richard Yates and has lived in Illinois since 1859. He served four terms in the state legislature prior to being elected lieutenant governor in 1904.

It is said that eastern and southern democrats have not abandoned hope of persuading the democratic national convention to nominate Judge George Gray of Delaware for president. Henry Gassaway Davis of West Virginia, who was the democratic nominee for vice president in 1904, is one of the influential men in the party who has recently declared for Gray.

In Illinois the republicans are preparing for an eleven months' hot campaign, in which the principals will be the aspirants for Albert J. Hopkins' seat in the senate, the candidates for governor and the minor state offices, congress and the legislature. Not the least of all is the struggle for control of the Illinois delegation to the republican national convention, carrying with it the chance to nominate Speaker Cannon for the presidency.

Isaac Stephenson, the millionaire Wisconsin lumberman who is to occupy the seat in the United States senate vacated by John C. Spooner, will be seventy-nine years old in June. In spite of his years, he is reported to be alert and agile. He is of the same age as Senator Allison of Iowa and Senator Cullom of Illinois. Senator Morgan of Alabama and Senator Whyte of Maryland each is five years the senior of Stephenson, while Senator Pettus of Alabama, the oldest member in the upper branch of congress, will round out 86 years in July.

Kansas's senator, the late J. J. Ingalls, left one son who gives promise of figuring conspicuously in the affairs of his state. Sheffield Ingalls was a member of the last Kansas legislature and took high rank in that body among its ablest men. His home is at Atchison, where he began the practice of law not long ago. He is already slated for congress, although the district in which he lives has only recently elected as its representative the son of another famous Kansan in the person of "Dan" Anthony. Senator Ingalls left another son, Ralph, who is practicing law in Kansas City, Mo. The widow and daughter live in the old family homestead at Atchison.

McClure's Summer Reading

There could be no more fascinating reading than Walter Wellman's account of his preparation for a voyage to the pole in a flying machine to be made in July. Wellman's article is to be printed in June and July. It catches the imagination like a dream of the far distant future. Just conceive it—a vast cigar-shaped balloon, nearly two hundred feet long, whirling through the air, suspended from its threads that look finer than spun silk, is a long steel car. In it, as it hovers hundreds of feet above the earth, you can see four tiny figures—the crew—pushing this lever and that, dropping the lead, taking observations, and shifting ballast, doing the hundred things the complicated machine requires.

"The Fight of the Copper Kings," C. P. Connolly's amazing story of Montana, is to reach its climax in July with the narration of the sensational struggle for the Minnie Healy mine. In July, also, Carl Schurz's "Reminiscences" reach their climax in the "High Tide of the Rebellion" at Gettysburg. The whole panorama of Gettysburg stretched before General Schurz's eyes, and no spectator of the battle was better fitted than he to become its historian. George Milne's "Life of Mary Baker G. Eddy and History of Christian Science" also continues with new phases of this remarkable woman and her cult.

The fiction for the summer promises to be a better feast than McClure's have ever before given. There are to be stories by three new writers, Mary S. Watts, Will Adams, and Lucy Pratt. There are, also, stories by such well-known writers as Joseph Conrad, Henry C. Rowland, Willa Sibert, and John G. Roseboro. These stories will be illustrated by such artists as F. Walter Taylor, James Montgomery Flagg, Sigismund de Ivanofski, Arthur J. Keller, F. D. Steele, Blumenshien and other successful illustrators.

PRESS COMMENT

The Editor's Apology.

Arizona Kicker: Our subscribers will not fail to notice the sad condition of our third page today. We had the form ready for press when Judge Gilbert called at the office in a drunken condition, and in his attempt to hug us to prove his affection, he knocked the form into "H." We had not time to reset the matter, and so had to leave the page blank. While we are sorry, it is not our fault. We can't even pitch into the judge about it. He not only owes us $80 borrowed money, but controls legal advertising to the amount of $800. This is our position, and we trust our readers will appreciate it.

Expos Becoming Too Numerous.

Green Bay Gazette: But the exposition business is being vastly overdone. Many of the states like Wisconsin have concluded that the outlay of cash for exhibits does not give sufficient return in advertising and the appropriations have been cut off. The federal government will in time be obliged to take similar action and the sooner it is done the better. An occasional exposition of this character is both desirable and profitable, but too many as many as are now being continually sprung upon the people can only be detrimental in effect.

It's the Pill's Perfume.

La Crosse Leader Press: The chief objection to the cigarette is the smoke produced by a combination of burning paper and burning tobacco, and that objection is not because of injury it does the smoker's system, for that is little, but the scent which everybody knows and what causes everybody to flee. A good cigar has an odor agreeable even to the person who never smokes. The odor of the cigarette drives everybody but the most hardened to the woods. It is this overpowering scent, strong enough to do credit to the most venerable sewer, which gives some justification for the spirit in which legislatures approach the cigarette question.

IMPRESSIONS OF THE BIG JAMESTOWN EXPO.

Rev. R. M. Vaughan Returns From Visit in Washington and Jamestown—Shook Roosevelt's Hand.

Rev. R. M. Vaughan is home after a fortnight's visit to the national capital and the Tenthennial Exposition at Jamestown. A request for "impressions" looks the following:

My chief errand was attendance upon the gathering of northern Baptists at Washington and the convention of the Baptists of all North America at Jamestown. It may be of interest to report the organization of a representative delegated convention by the Northern Baptists. Hitherto there was an association of individuals and churches interested in special missionary enterprises, but no convention capable of voicing the convictions of the Baptists of the North. We were a basket of eggs. But we have now emerged from our shells, hard or soft, and can now be mobilized for the support of great social causes. It is the most important event in the history of the Baptists for half a century. At Jamestown the Baptists of the North and South fraternized for the second time since their disruption over the slavery issue in the forties. Sectionalism is no more. The Baptists at Jamestown represented a host of over 500,000 church members, growing at the rate of a million a decade.

Of course the conventions had by-products of observation and experience. We took the Chesapeake and Ohio and so our travel led us almost the length of "Ole Virginia." One missive in the South the "trim and vigorous appearance of things visible in the North." But possibly the Virginia gentlemen with their pleasant homes and greater leisure get as much enjoyment out of life as we do with our feverish haste to be rich. The South looks much like Kipling's East, you can't "hustle" it. Virginians are proud of Virginia and devoted to it. A man who died and went to Heaven saw there a group of dissatisfied people. He inquired who they were. "Oh," said Peter, "they're Virginians, the fools want to go home."

The city of Washington is swiftly taking its place among the most beautiful cities of the world. Some travelers believe the congressional library is the finest building on earth. A pleasant feature of our visit at Washington was a reception, accorded by President Roosevelt to the delegates of the convention. Two thousand people under two thousand umbrellas marched a mile in the rain to the White House. The same number of people returned, but probably not the same number of umbrellas for the check system at the White House broke down. The President greeted each of us cordially, giving us a cordial handshake, and showing us his wisdom teeth in his characteristic smile. There was not one us but esteemed it an honor to meet, so sturdy, brave, and progressive President, the foremost ruler in the world. Of chief interest among the places near Washington are Arlington and Mt. Vernon. The former was Robert Lee's old home, now the national cemetery. Upon its meadows and hillsides 40,000 are buried. Mt. Vernon is twelve miles down the river, a beautiful place, home of the greatest man in America in his day.

The exposition stands on the point of the southern peninsula which juts into Hampton Roads. Jamestown itself is forty miles up the James river. Nothing remains of the first permanent settlement of Englishmen in America but the ruins of an old church tower. Of course the exposition is not upon the vast scale of the exposition at Chicago and St. Louis. Nevertheless it gives promise of impressive beauty. The government and some state buildings are ready but the other buildings are still in the process. Another month ought to see it practically complete. A pleasant incident of the trip was a whiff of warm weather.

SPIRIT WOMAN AWAY FROM THE HOSPITAL

Madison Woman Accused of Trying to Smother Children, Escapes From Rockford.

It is barely possible that Mrs. Ruby Clark, the Madison woman who is alleged to have smothered one of a pair of twin babies in a trunk in Rockford, is hiding in Janesville. She was taken to a Rockford hospital immediately after the discovery of her act and a report from that city this morning says she has been spirited away with the connivance of Rockford ladies who think her mental anguish enough punishment for her crime. As she is known to have friends in Janesville and Janesville is adjacent and convenient to Rockford it is thought she may possibly be hiding here. Mrs. Clark was separated from her husband and her one of whom died from the injuries received; showed symptoms of having colored blood in their veins. It is said she was taken from the hospital by philanthropic women, hidden under a heavy veil and hurried across the state line into Wisconsin.

Chance to Sell Corn Shellers.

Kaffirs in many districts of Africa still winnow their corn by beating it with sticks and throwing it in the air. A simple corn sheller would doubtless sell well if properly introduced.

Shakespeare Inspired.

Pep's Diary, 1859-1869, commenting on Shakespeare's plays, says of "Midsummer Night's Dream": "It is the most inspired, ridiculous play I ever saw in my life," and upon reading "Othello, the Moor of Venice," which I have hitherto esteemed a mighty good play; but having lately read the "Adventures of Five Hours," it seems a mean thing.

"A FACT"

You can sit down in the dental chair of Dr. Richards without feeling like going into spasms because of fear of pain.

He makes it his business to avoid hurting you.

It's a common thing to hear a patient say upon getting out of his chair, "Doctor, I won't be so much afraid next time."

"You didn't hurt me a bit."

Another common occurrence in his office is to hear people come in and say, "Dr. Richards, your work for me has proven so satisfactory that I have recommended so and so to come to you for their work."

If you have Dr. Richards do your dental work you will be sure of at least two things:

It will be good work.

His prices will be most reasonable.

Try him for your next work.

AT THE EUROPEAN HOTEL

Shortly Before Eight o'clock This Morning—Demise Will Be

Mourned by Hundreds.

Genial, jovial John Conley, who always had a pleasant word, a quip, or a jest for everyone and who had a larger circle of friends and acquaintances in the city than most men, has contributed his last cheery word to lighten the journey of his fellow pilgrims in this world. He sank suddenly, as in a fainting spell, while seated at the breakfast table at the European Hotel at 7:55 this morning and when Charles Carpenter, one of the proprietors, in response to a call from another boarder, hastened to his side a moment later and raised his head, the dying man breathed his last.

Dr. Cunningham and Fifield were summoned and upon their arrival declared that neuritis of the heart had been the probable cause of his demise. Mr. Conley had been unwell for about a fortnight past and visited

Dr. Cunningham's office about two weeks ago. At that time he complained of a severe pain in his chest. While his heart action was found on examination to be hardly normal, the irregularity was not marked. Just before breakfast this morning he told Mr.

Carpenter that he was feeling better than usual.

Deceased was born in the county

Silgo, Ireland, May 4, 1843, and came to Janesville in his youth and engaged in the railroad business. It is believed that he had been a resident here from thirty to thirty-five years.

For a long time he had been section man for the C. & N. W. Ry. Co. and had continuously enjoyed the high esteem and confidence of his associates. He never married and a brother and two sisters, residing in New York City are the nearest known relatives. The Ancient Order of Hibernians and the Catholic Order of Foresters claimed him as a member and the first named organization has taken charge of the funeral arrangements.

The New York relatives have been notified by telegraph and pending instructions from them, the remains will be taken to John Nash's residence.

HE

In Memory of General Lawton.

By DANIEL B. SKITT.

[Copyright, 1907, by T. E. McGrath.]
MEMORIAL DAY in Indianapolis this year is made memorable by the unveiling of a statue of Major General Henry Ware Lawton, President Roosevelt participating. General Lawton was the most conspicuous victim of the war in the Philippines. He was killed during a battle at San Mateo, near Manila, Dec. 19, 1899.

The statue is a bronze figure of General Lawton in uniform. Daniel Chester French of New York and Andrew O'Connor, now living in Paris, were the sculptors. The statue and stone pedestal cost between $25,000 and $30,000, raised by popular subscription, most of it from friends and admirers of General Lawton in Indiana, his home state. The movement to erect the memorial was started shortly after the death of the general.

The career of General Lawton makes a brilliant page in American military history. For thirty-seven years he was a soldier of the United States. He served in the civil war, in the Spanish-American war, in the Philippine uprising and through several severe Indian campaigns on the western plains. He was what is sometimes described as a born soldier. In fact, he never followed any other calling.

Just a week after the attack on Fort Sumter in 1861, Henry W. Lawton enlisted in the volunteer service. He was but eighteen years of age. His first service was as a private and sergeant in an Indian infantry regiment, and he was promoted rapidly for gallant fighting. Congress voted him a medal of honor for gallantry in action in the fighting before Atlanta in 1864. Before the end of the war he was a brevet colonel. When the war closed, Colonel Lawton retired for a few months, but in July, 1866, he entered the regular army as a second lieutenant in an infantry regiment. He remained in the regular army until his death by a Filipino bullet more than thirty-three years later. At the time of his death his rank in the regular army was that of a colonel, but the war department clerks at Washington were preparing his commission as a brigadier general in the regular service when the news reached the department that he had been killed in battle.

In 1871 Lawton was transferred to the Fourth cavalry. He fought the Sioux, the Utes and other hostile Indian tribes and in 1880 performed one of the most notable exploits in plains warfare history by rounding up and capturing a fierce Apache chief, old Geronimo, who had given the government more trouble than any other Indian on record. General Miles selected Captain Lawton to lead an expedition of picked men into Mexico against Geronimo and his band of bloodthirsty Apaches. Lawton visited the chief in his camp and planned for his surrender. This was one of the most daring ventures in Indian war annals. Some of the older army officers still discuss it with wonder.

At Santiago Lawton, with the rank of brigadier general of volunteers, commanded the second division of the Fifth army corps, doing valuable service in the several engagements leading to the capture of the Cuban city. He was made a major general of volunteers less than a week after the fall of Santiago for gallantry at El Caney.

General Lawton's service in the Philippines was notably brilliant. He began his work there early in 1899. In July he was placed in command at Manila. He immediately began a campaign with the object of capturing General Aguinaldo, the Filipino leader. It was much like the Indian fighting with which Lawton was so familiar. Various small engagements were fought, the Filipinos frequently hiding in the jungles and shooting from ambush. General Lawton captured San Isidro, the capital of the Filipino government at the time, and chased Aguinaldo from place to place.

About the middle of December the general led a force of something more than a thousand soldiers against a Filipino stronghold at the town of San Mateo, fifteen miles from Manila. General Lawton and his staff made the trip on horseback in one night over almost impassable mountains in a heavy rainstorm. The horses slipped and slid down the hills and ravines, and the men arrived on the river bank opposite San Mateo drenched and muddy, but full of fighting spirit.

When the engagement began, General Lawton, wearing a white helmet and a yellow raincoat, was a conspicuous target. He was, in fact, the most conspicuous target in the army, being six feet three inches tall and a big man at that. He insisted, against the advice of his staff, upon going on the firing line. He was standing in front of the firing line, the men being prone in the grass, when one of his staff officers observed that the Filipino sharpshooters were trying to pick the general off. Bullets struck the ground near his feet. The staff officer remonstrated with the general for exposing himself, but Lawton's well known contempt for bullets caused him to regard the warning lightly. A little later he cried "I am shot!" and clutched at his breast. He fell into the arms of the officer and died instantly.

General Lawton's body was borne to the rear and placed in a clump of bushes while the men continued the fight, dispersed the enemy and took possession of the town. Many of the soldiers went when they learned of their commander's death. He was the only American killed in the fight, though several of the officers and men were wounded.

The death of General Lawton caused profound sorrow throughout the army. He had been known for nearly forty years as one of the most fearless fighters in the service. Next to General Custer, who fell in the awful fight on the Little Big Horn in 1876, Lawton was esteemed the most daring fighter on the plains. A grateful country is proud to honor him. The president of the United States, who watched Lawton at El Caney and Santiago, and knew his worth from personal observation, was proud to accept the invitation from the citizens of Indianapolis to take part in the unveiling of the memorial.

General Weston's Exploit.

General John P. Weston, who many years later became commissary general of subsistence, was a cavalry major in 1864. He captured a Confederate transport on the Tallapoosa river in Alabama. With six followers, each man having his revolver strapped on top of his head to keep the powder dry, he swam into the stream and took the captain of the transport prisoner through a clever ruse. This deed made him a medal of honor man.

The Civil War At a Glance.

By WALTON WILLIAMS.

THE American civil war was the greatest conflict in arms in the history of the human race. The American Revolutionary war, which lasted nearly twice as long, was a series of mere skirmishes compared with the struggle of the early sixties. Battles were fought during the civil war, now known only to the most of historians or to local tradition or recollection, which exceeded in the forces engaged and surpassed in the carnage resulting some of the most important actions during the struggle for independence. The number of battles fought greatly exceeded the number incident to any single European war. The firing line was a thousand miles long. Nearly 4,000,000 men were engaged. More than 500,000 men were killed in action or died from wounds or disease. In practically every respect the war of 1861-65 was the biggest and bloodiest of all time.

This stupendous struggle embraced so many ramifications of incident that a complete history of the whole is utterly impossible. Historians have been able only to "hit the high spots" for want of space and lack of time and endurance to sift and chronicle all the interesting facts.

We do not know even how many battles were fought. This can be only approximated. In the government's "Chronological List of Battles" the number exceeds 2,260. But the bureau of pensions has an alphabetical list of engagements, including skirmishes and such other minor actions as were deemed sufficiently important to note. This list contains more than 6,500 engagements.

About 2,500,000 Union soldiers were enlisted during the war. The Confederate records are very incomplete, many of them having been lost or destroyed. It is estimated that the numbers engaged on that side of the conflict were not far short of 700,000 men. These figures do not include the considerable numbers of irregular combatants on each side, many of whom were not officially enrolled.

War department records show 359,528 deaths from all causes in the Union armies during the war. In proportion to strength of forces engaged the Confederate losses were equally severe. In the absence of definite records any estimate, however, must be a mere guess. In the Union armies 67,053 men were killed in battle, 43,012 died of wounds received in action, and 224,580 died of disease incident to service. Of those killed in battle 4,142 were commissioned officers. The number of Union men who died while prisoners of war was 20,493. United States military authorities executed 267 men and would have executed many more but for the humane intervention of Abraham Lincoln. The Confederates executed four officers and sixty men of the Union forces.

It is a most remarkable fact that in the four years of this mighty conflict only one man was executed for "political" reasons by a Union general. In New Orleans a man named Mumford pulled down a flag of the United States after the city had been captured, but before it was occupied by the Federal forces. General Benjamin F. Butler, who was in command of the occupying force, caused Mumford to be hanged.

Where Lincoln Put the Whetstone.

A soldier at whose house when a boy Lincoln paused in his tramps in Illinois and who lent him a whetstone to sharpen his jackknife met him during the war in Washington. Lincoln spoke of using the whetstone.

"A-a-s," drawled out the old soldier. "Whatever did you do with the whetstone? I never could find it. We 'lowed mebbe you took it along with you." "No, no! I put it on top of the gatepost—that high one." "Mebbe you did. Nobody else could have reached it, and none of us ever thought to look there for it." There it was found where it was placed fifteen years before. The soldier reported the fact to the president.

WILL CONSIDER TARIFF CHANGES

FRANCE WILLING TO ENTER INTO NEGOTIATIONS.

RECIPROCITY IS OBJECT

Satisfactory Completion of Arrangements with Germany Has Given Impetus to Action—For Mutual Concessions.

Washington, May 29.—Although it is stated that nothing has yet been done toward adjusting the tariff relations between France and America, and while it also has been stated that there appeared to be no occasion for the dispatch of a tariff commission to Paris, as was done in the case of Germany, the satisfactory completion of the arrangements with that country has caused preparations to be made to consider the case of France. So far as is known the recent decision that a tariff commission would serve no useful purpose remains unchanged. The reason assigned for that statement was that the negotiations with France had long ago progressed far beyond the commission stage and had indeed resulted in the drafting of a treaty. But this treaty can come to nothing without affirmative congressional action, and the French government is believed to be unwilling to await the uncertain course of legislation. Instead they are willing, it is believed, to follow the example set by Germany and endeavor to secure whatever advantages are opened to them under a reciprocity agreement, drawn under section three of the Dingley act. Of the few commodities named in that section upon which the American government may grant reductions of duty, but one remains available as a basis for negotiations, namely, sparkling wines and champagnes. Upon the other articles reduced duties have already been accorded to France.

One of the factors that will enter into the French negotiations if they are begun is the action of the United States treasury department in making the amendments to the customs regulations required by the German agreement. These changes are regarded as of the greatest value to German exporters, but it may be noted that they cannot be confined in their operation to any one nation and are therefore open to all, so that France will profit equally with Germany so far as that part of the agreement is concerned.

Big Men Under Investigation.

Denver, Col., May 29.—That the federal inquiry now in progress in Denver involves some of the largest corporations in America and that indictments will be returned against men who are rated as multi-millionaires and captains of industry, known as well in Wall street as in Colorado, is the latest development in connection with the probing of the grand jury. No less than 120 secret service men now make their headquarters in Denver, this small army of government sleuths having rented a large portion of the fifth floor of an office building, from here they are spreading the net that is tightening about victims in high places. L. C. Wheeler, in the service of the department of justice at Washington, is in charge of the secret service men and he expresses the belief that there will be some startling revelations in the near future.

Lutherans in Hot Discussion.

Sunbury, Pa., May 29.—The report of the board of publication caused much discussion, at the session of the Lutheran synod. The arguments became heated and the matter of discontinuing the publication of the Missionary Journal was left to a vote of the synod and that body by an overwhelming vote decided to discontinue it. A proposition was then put to the synod to establish a journal to be known as the "Lutheran Church Worker," which was carried by a large vote.

The synod also authorized the publication of a woman's magazine, which will be issued by the Missionary society.

France Not Opposing America.

Paris, May 29.—The report that France is opposing the American acquisition of the Danish West Indies is authoritatively denied. The foreign office says it has no knowledge of the resumption of negotiations on the subject, but that if true France has no interest in the matter and has no intention of interposing.

Presbyterian Synod Ended.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 29.—The annual synod of the Reformed Presbyterian church that has been in session in Allegheny closed Tuesday night after deciding to hold the next synod at the Third church in Philadelphia.

Denial Made by France.

Paris, May 29.—The Associated Press is authorized to deny the recent reports that France has withdrawn her protection of the Christians in the far east.

The Weight of the World and its civilization rests on the strong shoulders of the three great beer brewing nations. Herein is overwhelming evidence that the continual use of rich barley brews like develops muscle, might and mind. Dr. Chas. S. Grady, Grantwood, N. J., says: "I believe the moderate use of good malt beer, the product of barley vegetable or cereal ingredient, is beneficial to adult persons and is certainly a food."

Gund's Peerless Beer

The popularity of "Peerless" is due to its commanding superiority. It has a splendid fragrance and most delightful flavor, because it is brewed—and has been brewed for half a century—by the celebrated Gund Natural Process—a peculiar process that retains in a most wonderful degree the aroma and strength of the grain and the hop.

Won gold medal at St. Louis, 1904—and diploma at Paris, 1900. Contains but 3 1/2% of alcohol—enough to promote digestion. Is a fine family beer. Try a case delivered at your home. Telephone, write or call for a trial order.

Peerless is sold at all restaurants, buffets, cafes, hotels and places of public resort.

Ask and it is handed to you.

WARM WEATHER STILL AFAR OFF

BUREAU SEES NO PROSPECT OF IMMEDIATE RELIEF.

FROSTS IN LAKE REGION

Cold Wave Has Been Particularly Severe in the Southwest—High Areas of Pressure Held Responsible for Conditions.

Washington, May 29.—Remarkably unseasonable weather with a cold wave extending throughout the country east of the Rocky mountains, thermometers in some sections registering the lowest temperatures for the season in many years, is reported by the weather bureau. Tuesday night the bureau issued the following special forecast:

"Frost warnings have been issued for the middle Atlantic states and the eastern lower lake region, western Colorado, east Wyoming, Utah and northern Arizona, and warnings of freezing temperature for western Wyoming."

Added to this, flood warnings have been issued for the lower Rio Grande river valley and supplementary warnings for the Red river valley in southwest Arkansas.

No Prospect of Warm Weather.

Weather bureau officials say that there is no immediate prospect of any summer weather anywhere. The present cold wave, they add, has been running through most of the present month. Heavy frosts are reported to the bureau from Michigan and other states of the lake region. The cold wave is particularly severe in the southwest, and due, according to the weather experts, to the heavy rains in that part of the country. Forecaster Harry C. Frankfield of the weather bureau said:

"The reason for the cold weather we have had during the past two or three months is that the high areas of pressure have moved eastward from the northern portion of the country almost continuously and these have caused cold north winds. That is the only reason I can give for the cold weather areas. As to what makes these high areas keep up all this season is more than I can tell."

Not since 1882 has the abnormal weather been approached in this part of the country. It is five degrees below the normal temperature for this month. A temperature of 44 degrees was recorded at the weather bureau early Tuesday and 59 degrees at eight o'clock at night.

Cummins Would Be Senator.

Des Moines, Ia., May 29.—It is announced definitely that Gov. Cummins would be a candidate for United States senate subject to endorsement of the Republicans at next year's primary election under recently enacted primary law. It has been rumored many times that Gov. Cummins would seek a seat in the senate, but no definite announcement was made until Tuesday. Senator Wm. B. Allison is the Iowa senator directly affected, Senator Dolliver having been reelected by the last legislature. Gov. Cummins' announcement may mean a precipitation of another fight such as was waged among Republicans in Iowa last year.

Railroad Men in Session.

Dallas, Tex., May 29.—The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and the Grand International auxiliary began a three days' session here Tuesday with about 600 delegates in attendance. W. E. Fitch, president of the insurance department of the brotherhood, gave an account of that department, stating that since its organization in 1897, it has paid out more than $17,000,000. The brotherhood and the auxiliary will each hold two sessions Wednesday and two Thursday.

VOLIVA CAST OFF THRONE.

Rule of Leader of Zion Comes to Sudden Halt.

Chicago, May 29.—Wilbur Glenn Voliva's rule over Zion City has come to an end—at least for a time.

His opponents in the struggle for control were characterized by him as "thieves, rascals, scoundrels, cowards, conspirators, tricksters, wolves," and as a "stinking mess of liars," during a call service in the Tabernacle Tuesday night.

The purpose of the meeting was to inform the followers of the overseer that his and their access to the Tabernacle, the school building, and the administration building will terminate Friday morning.

The clash came early Tuesday afternoon. Voliva presented a check for $1,800 at the bank of the receiver. The money had been deposited by Percy Clibborn when he was financial secretary of the church. According to the by-laws in the Zion City charter, Clibborn is still financial secretary, his deposition not having been acted upon by the people. Gus D. Thomas, cashier of the bank, refused to honor the check without its being indorsed by Clibborn.

Voliva created a scene. Later he was notified that he would not be allowed to use the Tabernacle and other public buildings and to appear before Judge Landis Wednesday to answer contempt of court charges.

Holds Liquor Traffic Lawful.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 29.—A far-reaching decision on the liquor traffic was handed down by the state supreme court Tuesday, that body declaring that the sale of intoxicants is lawful and therefore constitutional up-less declared unlawful by the state itself. The court also affirmed the right of a city to limit the liquor traffic, to prescribe districts, such as the business portion of the town.

Castellane Appeal Postponed.

Paris, May 29.—The appeal of Count Boni de Castellane against the decision of the court, November 14 last, granting a divorce to his wife, was again postponed Tuesday. It probably will not be heard until December.

ACCUSES CHIEF OF POLICE

ATTORNEY HENEY COMPLAINS OF METHODS USED.

Says Dinan, Head of 'Frisco Force, Has Improperly Approached Witnesses in Bribery Cases.

San Francisco, May 29.—Assistant District Attorney Henev said Tuesday that it has been discovered that the police force is being used in an attempt to reach prospective jurors and witnesses in the bribery graft prosecution. Henev charged that Chief of Police Dinan approached persons who will be called as witnesses in some of the trials and questioned them as to what testimony they intended to give.

Of the 50 veniremen summoned into court for the completion of the Schmitz jury—eight already having sworn to try the case—41 answered the clerk's roll call Tuesday, nine were absent, 25 offered excuses to the court and were allowed to depart, leaving 16 among whom to select four jurors to complete the panel.

The arraignment of the gas company officials indicted by the grand jury for bribing the supervisors was postponed until Friday, as, through a misunderstanding, Ruef and Garret McEnerney, who is to represent the indicted magnates, were the only ones present when the case was called.

Wednesday is the day set for the sentencing of Abraham Ruef on the charge to which he pleaded guilty two weeks ago of extorting $1,125 from the proprietor of Delmonico's restaurant on a threat to prevent the renewal of a liquor license, but sentence will not be passed at this time. Ruef will appear, the prosecution will move the postponement of sentencing, and Judge Dunne will acquiesce.

The prosecution prefers to delay Ruef's punishment until after he has appeared as a witness against the public service corporation officials, the mayor and others now under indictment.

MILLERS MEET AT ST. LOUIS.

Opening Session of the National Federation Is Held.

St. Louis, May 29.—Millers from all parts of the United States and some from abroad were in attendance Tuesday at the opening session of the annual mass convention of the Millers' National Federation.

The afternoon session opened with the report of Secretary A. L. Goetzmann, of Chicago, in which he stated that the special committee of six millers appointed to make a study of the question of foreign export trade, transportation and legislation, had met in Chicago on May 7 and discussed the entire situation. At the meeting a preliminary report was prepared and a copy taken by each member for further study with the view of making a committee report at the regular meeting of the national organization, following the present session of the mass convention later in the year.

After listening to addresses the session adjourned until Wednesday morning. At night the delegates, of whom there are estimated to be about 400 in attendance, were entertained at Forest Park Highlands.

CORPORATION LAW IS UPHELD.

Estate Must Help Pay Debts of Concern Which Failed.

Washington, May 29.—In the case of Bernheimer vs. Converse, from New York, the supreme court of the United States has rendered a decision favorable to Converse. Bernheimer is executor of the estate of Simon Bernheimer of New York, who owned 200 shares of stock of the Minnesota Thrasher company of Stillwater.

When that concern failed the estate was assessed $3,600, under the Minnesota law making stockholders in corporations liable for the obligations of the company in an amount equal to the stock held by them. Payment was refused on the ground that the proceeding is contrary to the provision of the constitution prohibiting the taking of property without due process of law.

The opinion was by Justice Day.

LULL IN STEUNENBERG TRIAL.

Sheriff Engaged in Summoning Veniemen for Examination.

Boise, Idaho, May 29.—None of the talesmen of the third special venire ordered in the Steunenberg case was summoned Tuesday. The list was in part prepared and the first of the summons will be served Wednesday. Sheriff Hodgkin plans to complete service of the 61 citizens included in the venire by noon on Thursday in order to give them all ample time to present themselves in court by Friday morning.

Counsel on both sides were in conference Wednesday on work connected with the further examination of jurors and the actual trial of the case. The state has decided to call Steve Adams as a witness, but the expectation now is that he will enter a general refusal to testify. Arrangements to bring him here have not been made and probably will not be until shortly before he is to be called to the stand.

PRESIDENT LEAVES CAPITAL

WITH PARTY, CHIEF EXECUTIVE BEGINS FOUR DAYS' TRIP.

Goes to Attend Mrs. McKinley's Funeral at Canton—Indianapolis and Lansing Will Be Visited.

Washington, May 29.—President Roosevelt left here Tuesday night at ten minutes after nine o'clock for his trip west, to be absent from Washington until Saturday afternoon.

The presidential party occupied the private car Magnet, attached to the regular train over the Baltimore & Ohio railroad.

Wednesday the president is to attend Mrs. McKinley's funeral at Canton; on Memorial day he is to speak at the unveiling of Gen. Lawton's statue at Indianapolis, and on Friday he is to address the Michigan legislature at the capitol building at Lansing briefly in the morning, and in the afternoon is to speak to the students of the agricultural college there. Following the exercises at the college there is to be a reception at the railroad station of a delegation from the Associated Harvard clubs, after which the president leaves for Washington. The president's original program at Lansing contemplated only an address to the students, but upon the urgent invitation of those interested he consented to make the address at the capitol.

The president was accompanied by Secretaries Root, Garfield and Wilson, Secretary Loeb, Herman Kohlsaat of Chicago, Surgeon General and Mrs. Rixey and Assistant Secretary Latta. The members of the cabinet and Mr. Kohlsaat are going only as far as Canton to attend Mrs. McKinley's funeral, after which they will return to Washington. The remainder of the party will continue with the president through the entire trip. At Lansing they will be joined by Gifford Pinchot, chief forester.

Begin Anti-Trust Suit.

St. Louis, May 29.—Testimony was heard Tuesday before Special Commissioner Allen in the anti-trust suit instituted by Circuit Attorney Sager in behalf of the state against the alleged ice trust, in which the Polar Wave Ice and Fuel company is respondent. C. W. Whitelaw said he was the prime mover in the consolidation of the seven constituent companies which formed the Polar Wave company. After considerable argument between counsel Whitelaw finally testified that he had received 162.04 shares in the newly formed company.

Through quo warranto proceedings, Circuit Attorney Sager is attacking the legality of the merger and attempting to bring about the forfeiture of the company's charter and to have fines assessed against the company.

Insurance Official Indicted.

New York, May 29.—The May grand jury, which has been investigating the affairs of the Equitable Life Assurance society, Tuesday returned 18 indictments against Thomas D. Jordan, formerly controller of the Equitable. Perjury and forgery in the third degree are charged. No indictments were found against present officials of the society.

Various points in Wisconsin, Minnesota, South Dakota, Nebraska and Kansas will be visited.

C. L. VALENTINE, P. M.

Then and Now.

In the days of old, when knights were bold and wore sheathed shirts and vests, they battled for the right to hold fair maidens to their manly breasts. They went to war and risked their lives to get the girls they wished to win, and when they'd claimed them as their wives supported them through thick and thin. But in these days when every man appears to think he ought to try to get as wealthy as he can, and love is something he can buy, his wife's a partner that he takes in business for a year or two; then one or else the other breaks the ties and looks for something new.

Washington's Irish Army.

In a volume just issued by a Manhattan publisher, statistics compiled by the cleric author indicate among other data that three-fourths of Washington's army contained only Irish men or those of Hibernian descent. The record is made that authoritative statements prove that in a single regiment upward of 150 fighters each bore the Christian name, Patrick. The claim is also set forth that Gen. Warren, of Bunker-Hill fame, came of Celtic ancestry.

Modern Artificiality.

We certainly should be downcast at the wholesale artificiality of the age. Most of the people one knows, are in reality entirely different from what they seek to appear. To take anybody seriously is well-nigh a heinous offense, and it seems to be regarded as a much greater triumph to produce an imitation that "defies detection" than an enduring work of art. The classes are compounded of sham, the middle classes delight in them.—World.

A Strong Appeal.

Almost modern is the Persian story of the man whose disagreeable voice in reciting his prayers in the mosque was annoying to everyone. One day some one asked him, how much he was paid for reciting. "Paid!" he replied, "I am not paid. I recite for the sake of Allah!" "Then," replied the other, "for Allah's sake don't!"

A Compliment.

"Of course," said Miss Clumsy, "Mr. Kidder's language is not always elegant, but he can be very complimentary in his rough way." "Yes," asked Miss Wise, "Yes. He says I'm a bird." "Huh! So is an ostrich."

Why Not, indeed?

"The idea that there is anything undignified in dairy work is entirely a mistake. Why, if a woman can milk a cow or make butter, should she not be able to read poetry or play the piano?"—Viscountess Falmouth.

MORGAN AND THE STUTTERER.

Former Relaxed at the Clever Retort of the Latter.

A young reporter on the New York Sun, who stuttered fearfully, was sent one day to try to get a statement from Mr. J. Pierpont Morgan.

"Who and what are you?" demanded Mr. Morgan.

In moments of surprise or nervous excitement the reporter's stammering always became acute, so he stood with jaws locked, vainly trying to speak.

Mr. Morgan began to fume, and finally he sputtered:

"What in the devil are you?"

The reporter's sense of humor did not share the clogging up of his speech, and, after much facial contortion, he managed to gurgle out:

"I-I-I—aaaaa an elocutionist."

Mr. Morgan saw the joke, he grimly relaxed and when the reporter's speech-consciousness returned he got the statement—Saturday Evening Post.

IMMIGRANTS AT WINNIPEG.

Canadian City Where Fifteen Languages Are Spoken.

Winnipeg is where they do things. This is really the place where the frontier was abolished by the real estate regicides. A kingdom is sold daily in Winnipeg; an army is marched in to occupy it over night.

The yards of the Canadian Pacific railway alone in Winnipeg have over 120 miles of trackage, and they need it. The immigrants come by battalion—Englishmen in caps, Scotchmen in bonnets, Breton French in blue coats, Germans, Swedes, Norwegians, Austrians, Mennonites, Galicians—all manner of furtive folk and wild.

There are 15 known languages in the Winnipeg schools, and a lot too late to classify. When you see a stranger you cannot tell whether or not he is within the range of human speech. You bitterly reflect only that he is one of those who have wiped out the old frontier, lost it forever to those who love the wilderness.—Outing Magazine.

Indian Sign Language.

When an Indian paints his cheeks in scarlet lines and daubs a yellow square on his forehead the world knows that he is in love.

When he covers his face with zig-zag black lines upon an ochre base it is his purpose to—ah, I'm almost ashamed to say it—to get just as skated as he possibly can.

When red circles are on each cheek-bone and a rectangle of blue is on the forehead the young brave is going out to steal a paleface horse.

When he paints white rings around his eyes he is running for office, he is a candidate for medicine man or councillor, and the white rings signify that he ought to be elected because he has the wisdom of the owl.—N. O. Times-Democrat.

A Russian Pastime.

If the human jaws need some occupation in the intervals of meals and gossip, says Health Culture, masticators could learn a lesson from the peasants of southern Russia, who exercise their teeth on the hard seeds of the Caspia sunflower.

There is not a suspicion of a stimulant about it, no chewing gum dyspepsia or navy pulp nuisance.

It is a pastime and, incidentally, an excellent dentifrice.

In Astrakhan a pint of the requisite seeds can be bought for a quarter of a penny.
